HEARTS AND VOICES VOLUME 1

HEARTS AND VOICES VOLUME 2

ST. ANDREW'S JUNIOR SCHOOL 2016

Ways we hope to partner you

- Active listener
  - Role model good listening by paying attention to what your boy says and what he means
  - Ask questions that begin with ‘What’, ‘How’ and ‘Why’ to encourage your boy to express himself beyond a simple ‘yes’ or ‘no’
  - Share how body language affects what we say and how it is interpreted

Ways we hope to partner you

- Eloquent speaker
  - Role model good pronunciation
  - Role model speaking with clarity and confidence
  - Emphasise the thinking process before speaking (Why do you say that? What is the reason?)
  - Watch examples of good and creative speaking (newscasters, radio DJs)

Certain Concerns

- Boys need to express themselves with good grammar
- Boys should read books appropriate to their ability and age group
  - Refer to reading list on school website (EL dept.)
- Boys tend to be careless with spelling

Ways we hope to partner you

- Critical reader
  - Role model reading for pleasure and for information
  - Identify a quiet corner to read with your boy without distractions
  - Read good books with your boy
    - Refer to online reading list on the school website (EL Dept.)
  - Discuss what was read and encourage him to share his personal opinions
  - *NEW* You can download e-books onto your tablet to read them with your son too!

Ways we hope to partner you

- Skilled writer
  - Role model writing (This can be reflections, thank-you notes, recipes and even short stories)
  - Encourage your boy to write reflections of what he learnt in school
  - Refer to examples in Hearts and Voices: Volume 1 & 2
  - *Use of Automated Marking Tool (Grammarly) and self-directed learning

Quick Demonstration for online tools

- Automated Marking Tools (Grammarly)
- Online Reading Library

Celebrating our strengths

- Generally able to hold a conversation
- Able to read a variety of books
- Parents support the school's initiatives like the NLB mass borrowing programme

Thank you parents!
